Buy tickets online to save €3 on price at the ticket office. No queuing. Tours, opening times, rates, offers and more of Casa Mila and Gaudi. The Façade An architectural sculpture. La Pedrera ('quarry' in English) is named after its spectacular stone façade. Like a vast wave rising up in the heart of Passeig de Gràcia, it is a huge work of sculpture, 30 metres high and 84 metres long. You have to do Gaudi, right? Casa Batllo is really neat and you really need a jump the line admittance it is jammed. La Pedrera is fascinating but this tour does not go inside, and if you don't go in there on your own or in a separate tour you are going to miss something special. Fourth series of Portal of Modernisme talks at Güell Pavilions A series of talks on Art Nouveau will commence in the stable building of the Güell Pavilions, located at Avinguda Pedralbes 7 in Barcelona, this coming Monday, 8 October 2018.
